

Assignment

G.Sathish

About switch conditional control construct:

Switch statement is a multiway branch statement.

Switch case is used to select one of many code blocks for execution. As the control flow reaches to the break keyword, the control breaks out of the switch block.

A lot of execution time can be saved because it ignores the rest of the codes execution when there is a break.

If none of the cases are found to be true then by default default block would be executed